 YOUR FRIEND,

It was quite a year! Though much like other school years, it had a slightly different feel to it. There was a feeling in the air that made it unlike the years immediately preceding it. Students seemed more interested in school activities. New clubs were formed and old ones increased in membership. Students seemed more interested in classes and class work. The results of the North Central Evaluation gave the entire Tempe High community a psychological boost with its findings of an outstanding program. There was a concerted effort to keep up with the technology explosion in both curricular and extra-curricular activities. Nearly everyone was taking or planning to take a computer class of some kind and a surprising number of students had computers at home. There was a sense of urgency, a desire to get on with it, to catch up with and then keep ahead of an increasingly faster moving world. Though students still worried about those less fortunate than themselves and the service clubs were very active, there seemed to be a more pragmatic view toward the world and its problems. People were concerned at even earlier ages about what they were going to do with their lives. The fighting in the Middle East and Central America, some of it causing casualties among American servicemen, was certainly sobering and of some concern. But those things were still far away for most of the Tempe High community and they didn't seem to play much of a role in our every day lives. The athletic teams did as well or better than they had in several years. School spirit seemed to have been found again. Students and faculty were proud to be members of the Tempe High family and bragged about it. Perhaps the feeling was best expressed by Coach Glenn Alford at the football season's first pep rally when he said, "The Buffs are back!" And it seemed that he was right. This unique, splendid, exciting year was truly THE YEAR OF THE BUFFALO.

Among the most spirited groups at Tempe High were the cheerlines and the Pommies. The Varsity Cheerline executes their Victory Mount at left, an action taken at both football and basketball games. The Pommies execute a high kick, a'la the French Can Can, during a half time performance.

We Got Spirit, Yes We Do! We Got Spirit

How About You? What gives you an opportunity to show off, catch up on your sleep, finish your homework and get out of class? A pep rally at a school with an apathetic attitude. And Tempe High students had a reputation of being fans who rode with a winner and forgot a loser. Our primary spirit goal was to erase that reputation. Despite the hard work of many individuals and organizations, we nearly didn't make it. Remember after the Marcos football game? There was hardly anyone at the next game against Saguaro. But the spirit groups stuck with it and we finally decided to hang in there with our teams, win or lose. Among the most spirited organizations were Pom and Cheer, who painted signs, decorated hallways and locker rooms, made spirit boxes and performed skits at pep rallies, and the Buff Band who was always there, always whooping it up, and always letting the world know that the Buffs had Spirit!

The Buff Varsity bursts through a Cheer-constructed "Runthrough" the beginning of the Corona game.

Excited students race onto the field to form a corridor of fans for the football team to run through on their return to the field for the second half of the Casa Grande game.

Juniors Steve Lewis, J.J. Auerbach and Rob Bracy are not amused about the call the referee just made.

Food, Food, Food....

"Lunchtime!" Suddenly the hallways of THS are crowded. Students are practically running to put their books away. "Who will take us to lunch today?" is asked. Generally, one out of a group of several friends will know someone who has a car. Suddenly, all vehicles leaving the Mill Avenue parking lot look like sardine cans. For 35 minutes the students are transformed into free wheeling teenagers who are not worried about homework, tests or other tension causing problems that are part of the school day. They invade and take over nearby fast food outlets. Just being somewhere off campus is as much a part of the joy as is the eating of America's favorite foods. After all, no one, but no one, eats on campus, particularly not in the cafeteria. That's the place for freshmen and other underclass elements of the society.

Hurrying to finish their meal at McDonalds are Seniors Ron Jenkins and Mike Aranda and Junior Brian Winiesdorffer.

Talking to someone at a nearby table is senior Leo Gilmartin.

Senior Wayne McCabe was trying to decide whether he wanted a small or a large order of french fries.

Everyone must have decided to go to Burger King. Waiting in line became a pain. Just ask Juniors Suzanne Bagley and Dave Rolli. Suzanne wanted them to hurry with Dave's order so she would get another tardy.

Pushing through their meal became a habit for Juniors Janet nkowski, Sandy Leon and Taralee Platt.

Senior Will Wearne looked extremely enthusiastic about his meal at McDonalds.

Senior Trisha Jones asked Junior Becky Perkinson if she would please hurry and finish her drink.

Senior Dan Junion demonstrated how much he enjoyed eating at McDonalds.

Junior Brian Winiesdorffer tries to drink his coke without laughing at the terrible pun his friend has just made.

And after school we.....

When the dismissal bell rang at the end of seventh hour, students scattered to the winds. Their destinations were almost as varied as were the colors of the clothes they wore. Many went home, particularly if they had to ride the bus. Others headed for after-school jobs. If they were out for an athletic team, they went to the gym for a quick change into a practice or game uniform. Many attended meetings of the clubs organized on campus. Some, worried about classroom problems, sought out teachers for extra help. A few participated in intramural sports such as racketball. During most of the year, there was generally a group practicing for a play, dance or music performance in the auditorium. And, there was always a handful of students waiting at curbside for mom or dad to come pick them up.

Going in after school and asking Mr. Vicich to go over a new concept discussed earlier in the day during his Algebra-Trig class was Sophomore Timmy Newman.

Going over the agenda for an after-school Interact Club meeting with sponsor Mr. Rich Torres were Seniors Vernon Richardson and Missy Goitia.

Practicing his serve in the shade because it was too hot out in the sun was tennis Coach Gary Shahan.

sophomore Angie Arbizu set up a special display of chemistry equipment to be used in a demonstration experiment during the annual Open House for parents.

senior Anthony Moya lifts weight after school in the weight room trying to get in shape before the wrestling season started.

Senior Roger Pyron is glad swimming practice is over for the day.

. Steve Peterson, the Band director, emphasizes interpretation of a piece the band has just played.

Senior Derek Jackson finishes editing an edition of the THS News Magazine TV show.

Band goes to the Windy City

The Buffalo Symphonic Band was one of four high school bands in the nation chosen by tape audition to play for the 37th Annual Mid-West National Band and Orchestra Clinic in Chicago from December 13 to December 18. Their playing before this prestigious group was outstanding and brought the audience to its feet in a standing ovation even before the conductor, Mr. Steve Peterson, could turn around. No other band at the clinic received such an immediate standing ovation. Band members spent the week practicing for their concert and sightseeing in cold, windy Chicago. They made many new friends and enjoyed a musical learning experience they will probably never be able to duplicate the rest of their lives.

Sophomore Eric Houston practices the French horn before the concert.

Senior Trish Jones puts all of her ability into playing the clarinet.

Seniors Trish Jones and Derek Jackson attack the streets of Chicago.

Senior Vernon Richardson responds happily and readily to questions about the Buff Band's performance from two coeds from Evanston, Indiana.

The Chicago skyline became a familiar sight to the Tempe High Band. It will always bring back memories of snowy days and sub zero nights.

Ski trip to Purgatory

Junior J.J. Auerbach plays with the icicles forming on his cabin.

The Gnomes Ski Club went to Purgatory, Colorado, over the Christmas break. They spent more time thawing out than skiing but returned home with many fond memories. The Corona del Sol ski club stayed with the Buffs, all under the supervision of the Gnomes' advisor, Coach Tim McBurney.

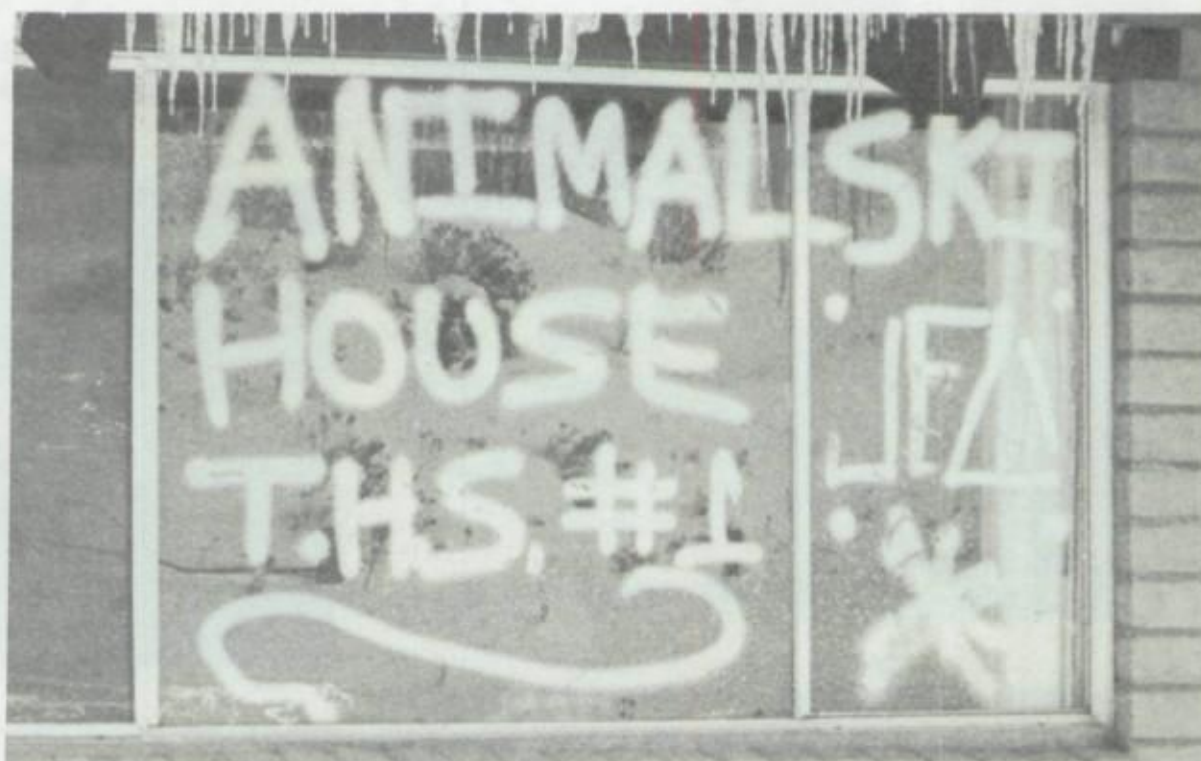

The Gnomes ski club members who traveled to Purgatory, Colorado, during Christmas break were Shianne Gay, Chris Bow, Marcy McDonald, Adrienne Henry, Kris Van Hazel, Kelley Meyer, Will Wearne, Kari Fedorchak, J.J. Auerbach, Chris Engelen, Kenny Howard, Sara Winkle, Shawn McBurney, Rob Bracy, Darren Womble, Jeff Jones, Lara Slusser, San Kaib, John Fremont, Jim Johnson, Leslie Schrack and Tim McBurney.

Waiting for his friends to get ready to hit the slopes was Junior Jeff Jones.

Trying to keep warm in the sub zero weather were Junior Chris Engelen, Junior Kenny Howard, and Juniors Sara Winkle and Kari Fedorchak.

Skiing wasn't all that went on during the week at Purgatory. Students spent some of their spare time decorating a window.

After the game let's go to....

The spot depends on what class you are in. But everyone, freshman through senior, has to go somewhere. Nobody goes straight home! The underclassmen head for Peter Piper's across the street. Upperclassmen disdain the pizza's they had before they could drive and head down the block for Tony's and his "real Italian food." Others drive to Snow or Paradise Cream, both a few miles away. If it's on the weekend and there's no dance, the upperclassmen head for the Riverbottom, the Tree, the Bikepath or wherever the party is. Some hardy souls who disdain sleep will head for the midnight movies.

The variety of offerings as seen inside of Paradise Cream gives an idea why it was so popular.

paradise cream

Paradise Cream was probably the most popular ice cream shop in the Tempe area as far as the Buffaloes were concerned.

Just across the street was one of the favorite pizza shops, Peter Piper Pizza. Many students did "C'mon over."

tony's italian food

Tony's was a nearby restaurant that served "real Italian" food and was favored by upperclassmen.

Inside Peter Piper's Pizza were a variety of video games to keep the restless or bored student entertained while he ate his pizza.

Snow was one of the popular places for lunch or a quick snack.

The Lakes 6 movie theater was the place to head for if you wanted to see a movie in the midnight movie.

Those on diets or a health food kick were likely to end up at Whirlawhip Ice Cream and Yogurt for their snack or lunch.

Clothes to be Cool

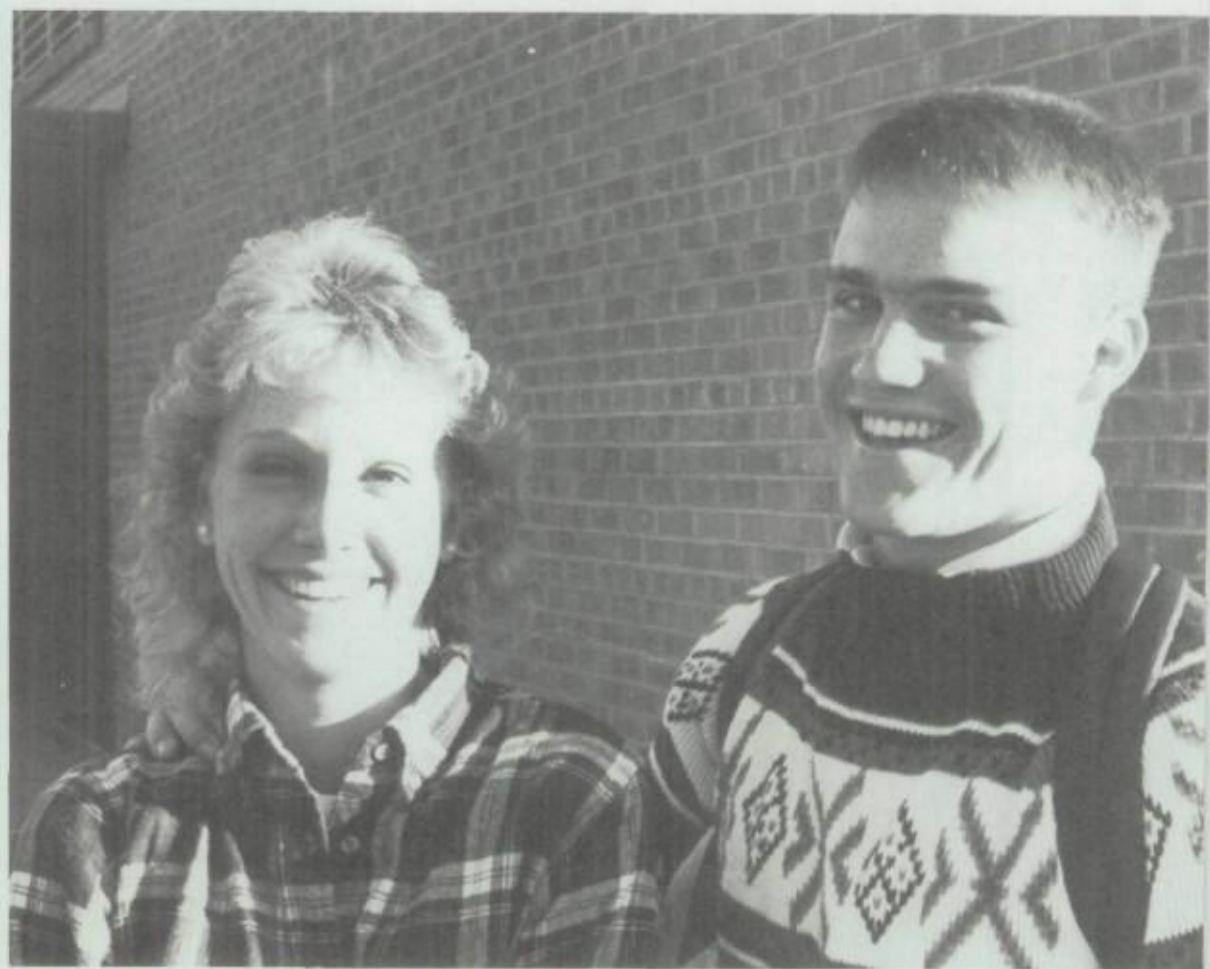

Many people dressed in what was considered style at THS. Popular footwear were high boots and loafers. For the girls, boots and Keds in lots of colors made the scene. Many students showed up in hats or wearing buttons. In the warmer months, there were plenty of miniskirts and shorts. But the one thing still popular over the years was Levis. All in all, most people dressed very casually.

Doing the Madness pose, Sophomore Michelle Englen and Seniors K. Fedorchak, Kirstin Walker and Darren Chico are "One Step Beyond..."

Junior Pat Salazar announces to all the school, "I Want My MTV."

Activities

PIP

Learning about a career by working with a professional is what the Professional Internship Program is all about. There are 27 students involved in the program at Tempe High. Students have the opportunity to make in-depth studies of professional fields they are considering as their future careers. Students' integrity and sense of responsibility to the professionals with whom they work are essential in this program. They get to experience the job first hand and demonstrate their ability to do work in that profession.

Kristina Mooney works at the KNIX radio station. She is in charge of calling listeners and recording data.

Shelly Davidson works in public relations at Rita Sanders Advertising.

At Tempe St. Luke Hospital, Vernon Richardson works in the surgical ward.

David Holtferich works in the computer room on campus programs for students and teachers.

Fall Play

Mr. Van Daan (John Hyatt), Mr. Frank (Steve Gritz), Mrs. Frank (Kristina Mooney) and Margot Frank (Debbie Kimberlin) look shocked at one of Anne's (Shana Julian) many questionable remarks.

Anne Frank (Shana Julian) teases Peter Van Daan (David Fatica) about his lack of facial hair.

The Van Daans and the Franks discuss the schedule they have to follow.

Mr. Kraler (Stefan Lisiak) and Mr. Frank meet.

Mr. Frank and Margot react to a crisis.

Mrs. Van Daan (Rebecca Gray) launches into one of her flamboyant, attention-getting speeches.

The Diary of Anne Frank

The first THS Drama production of the 1983-84 year was The Diary of Anne Frank. The cast had only 5 weeks to put the play together and, under the direction of Ms. Deborah Rice, they worked hard from 3:30 until 5:30 every day. The production included excellent performances by Shana Julian as Anne Frank, Steve Gritz as Mr. Frank and David Fatica as Peter Van Daan.

Dances

The year's dances were generally pretty successful, largely due to the high level of school spirit. Music for the dances was often provided by Sundance Sound Systems. During Padre week (the week of the Marcos game), a breakfast dance was held in the Quad. Dances were held in the Gymnasium after every home football game.

Seniors Neil Martin, Lucia Austin, Lisa Johnson, and Chip Wortley wake up at the breakfast dance in the Quad.

Seniors Taralee Platt, Sandy Leon, and Janet Skowski and Sophomores Kelly Kneadler and Kim Daz take a break and check out the prospects.

The dance floor begins to get crowded as the first slow dance of the night begins.

A group of Freshmen show how they feel about Tempe High dances.

Slow dancers, including Junior Joe Colli and Sophomore Rhonda Perlow, catch up on the latest gossip.

Freshmen Billy Carrasco and Karen Tai celebrate another win for the Mighty Buffs.

Junior David Sansone and Senior Audrey Wel get into The B-52's.

Homecoming

Homecoming remained very traditional but also contained some innovations as well as some ideas used in the past but dropped in recent years. The king and queen were again elected by the student body and crowned by last year's royalty. And they rode around the track in an open Corvette. There was the Alumni Band playing at halftime in their wild costumes. There had been a bonfire pep rally the night before the game. But the changes made it an event to be remembered. There were no class floats though each class was represented by a vehicle and royalty attendants in the parade. There was a dance Homecoming morning in the Quad before school. Senior Walk was revived at the Homecoming Pep Rally. And, the traditional Homecoming dance was shifted to Saturday night, a move which seemed to be popular judging by the size of the turnout.

Senior Kirstin Walker is announced as the new Homecoming Queen for 1983 and is crowned by last year's queen, Janee Rollins.

Seniors Kirstin Walker and Vince Martinez take their chauffeured drive around the field as a part of the halftime activities at the Homecoming game.

An old fashioned car driven in the parade carries on the tradition of Homecoming.

For the spirit of Homecoming, Junior Amy Mitchell drives in the parade.

While awaiting the announcement of King and Queen, Shawn McBurney and Kirstin Alford hold the royal crowns.

Juniors Mike Moreno and Cindy Palewich wait through the arbor as they enter the dance.

Senior Corey Zucco drives the Spirit Van.

Seniors Marie Mayorga and Eric Kronengold participate in an old tradition, revived this year, Senior Walk.

Senior Patty Haggard is amused at Senior Jon Akins as he tries to steal a kiss from her not so amused date, Gerry Turley.

Pleased with the dance being changed to Saturday night, many couples showed up and enjoyed dancing together.

Pep Rallies were one of the few ways that the whole school gathered together to raise spirit for Tempe High's athletic events. The rallies were organized by Student Council and included all Buffalo teams, the Band, Cheer, Pom and several campus clubs.

During the Mac pep rally, the Pommies did a Wheel of Fortune skit that spelled out message at the end.

Boys and Girls State

Boys and Girls State are designed to give high school juniors some insight into the problems of a democratic form of government. Last summer, the boys went to Northern Arizona University while the girls traveled to the University of Arizona. There they met other delegates and established governments at all levels from city to state. Campaigning and practical politics were learned as the many legislative bodies sought solutions to problems faced by similar groups in real life.

Sister City

Sister City representatives are selected from high school students living in Tempe. It is a highly competitive selection process and among the qualities the Tempe Sister City Board looks for are the ability to meet and get along with new people and how well they would represent the United States and Tempe in a foreign country. Three THS students were selected to visit Regensburg, Germany, one of Tempe's three Sister Cities. They traveled by air and spent six weeks living with their "new" families, soaking up the culture and habits of the residents of the old Bavarian town and learning some German.

Seniors Neil Martin, Missy Goitia and Jon Akins are in a relaxed mood as they show off some of the souvenirs they brought back with them from Germany.

Mistletoe Queen

The third Annual Mistletoe Dance was held just before Christmas break and, as in previous years, the highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Mistletoe Queen. Nearly 40 girls were nominated by clubs or individuals for the position. Six finalists were selected by a committee of eight judges who interviewed each girl and rated her according to her participation in school and community activities.

Senior Missy Goitia shows her excitement and happiness as she is announced as the new Mistletoe Queen. Her escort and the other nominees applaud her selection.

Foreign Exchange

Agnes Pancza and her younger sister, Cecile, were Foreign Exchange Students from Switzerland. They were at Tempe High for one year while their father taught geology at ASU. Both spoke very good English though their native tongue was French. Though they missed Swiss cheese and chocolate, they loved the warm climate of Arizona.

Foreign Exchange students Cecile Pancza and her sister Agnes look at the map of Arizona, plotting where they will tour next.

Coronation

Coronation is the traditional "girl ask guy" dance sponsored annually by the Student Council and organized by the Sophomore Class Council as practice for next year's prom. The semi-formal dance was held in the gym which was decorated in pink, white and red. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the king and queen, voted for at the dance as couples entered. The music was provided by an old favorite among the area's disc jockeys, Sundance Sound. The theme of the dance, Only You, was taken from the record by The Commodores.

After being crowned, Holly Morris is congratulated by last year's queen, Janifer Hendrickson and attendants Launa Whyte and Lisa Johnson.

A Canterbury Tale from The Wife Of Bath was a period-long play presented by the fifth hour drama class, the Encore Players, as their semester final. Directed by Ms. Deborah Rice, the play told of one of King Aurthur's knights who found himself in a great deal of trouble with virtually no way out. It was presented to the afternoon English classes.

Donkey Basketball

It was a night filled with spills, yells, frustrations and loud laughter as the FFA sponsored the annual Donkey Basketball game in the gym. The first two games pitted the Pommie/Cheer team against the FFA Girls and the FFA Boys/Varsity Athletes against the Faculty. The rubber game went into overtime as the winners of the first two games fought it out. The final victors were the Boys FFA/Varsity Athletes as they downed the Pommie/Cheer team. Probably the highlight plays were Coach Tim McBurney's rim shot in the last five seconds that just wouldn't fall, and Ed Caldwell's slam dunks from a standing position atop his donkey's back.

Marching Band

It was a busy and a landmark year for the Buff Band. As usual, they did well in the major marching and playing competitions throughout the state. But the highlight of the year had to be the trip to Chicago where the band played for the Midwest Band and Orchestra Director's Convention. Not only did the members enjoy themselves, but they brought great honor to Tempe High and the entire southwestern United States by being one of only four high school bands from throughout the nation selected to play at the convention. In order to get to Chicago, however, they had to raise a great deal of money. They held car washes, sold candy, sold newspaper subscriptions, held their annual cheese and sausage sale, and, of course, manned the concessions at ASU's home games. The Band Boosters, a parents group, sold concessions at all THS home games and held a rummage sale. The Buffs even sponsored a Woody Herman concert to help provide the funds needed for the Chicago trip. A "totally awesome" musical group, the Buff Band was a shining tribute to Tempe High wherever they played.

Cheer

The Cheerleaders were one of the foremost spirit raising groups on campus. Not only did they perform at football and basketball games but they did skits and handjives at the pep rallies to promote school enthusiasm. They raised money to buy goodies for the football and basketball players. The girls spent endless hours painting signs for the pep rallies and those that the football team ran through. But most of their time was spent perfecting their several performance routines.

They were led by several outstanding members from last year and were fortunate enough to attract some new, outstanding talent. Coaches Ms. Jenda Jones and Mr. Steve Walters were very impressed with the girls' abilities.

Coach Steve Walters shows Junior Amy Schooler the height she attained her last jump and discusses how she can beat that mark on her next attempt.

Junior Missy Alt had already developed good shot put form as she practiced before the season began.

Junior Missy Alt watches hopefully as she completes put in a pre-season workout. Missy, like all the girls on the team, worked hard on form and method during the pre-season practices.

Showing outstanding form, Senior Cheryl Wion glides with ease over the hurdles during practice.

Boys Track

A large turnout for the Boys Track Teams gave the Buffs a good chance to continue their mastery of the City of Tempe as they shot for their fourth straight City Championship. Head Coach Tim McBurney was looking toward State as the season began. He felt his strength would be somewhat equally spread through the field events, distance running and sprinting. Returning letterman scattered throughout the events were the backbone of the team.

Junior Frank Murrietta practice starts trying to reach top speed as soon as possible after clearing the blocks.

Straining to gain speed, Senior Jeff Scow races across the turf during a pre-season drill.

Senior Brian Johnson practices the pole vault early in the season. He was third the state last year with a 13'6" vault.

Senior Wayne McCabe hits top speed in a pre-season practice session.

Junior Mike Kerr races toward finish line in a practice session before the season's start.

The combined track teams are critiqued by Coach Tim McBurney after the Blue and White meet early in the season.

Varsity Baseball

The Varsity Baseball Team was rated as the best he had coached in the past three years by Head Coach Jim Foster. The team appeared to be highly competitive and wanted to win. They formed the desired unity early in the year. Eight of the team had previous Varsity experience.

The JV and Frosh teams also started with acceptable turnouts and the underclass Buffaloes spent the season sharpening skills which would hopefully win them a berth on the Varsity squad in future years.

Juniors

The Junior Class Council

The Junior Class worked hard to continue their two year tradition of PRIDE, SPIRIT and UNITY. The class of '85 developed a unique pride in the accomplishments of its individuals as well as those of the class. With their strong foundation of pride and spirit, they worked all year to raise money for a successful Prom and they enjoyed being upperclassmen.

The Senior Class Council

Composing the elected members of the Senior Class Council were Neil Martin, President; Lucia Austin, Girl's Representative; Beckie Rupert, Secretary-Treasurer; Lisa Johnson, Vice President; and Chip Wortlley, Boy's Representative.

Ah! Seniors at last! The class of '84 had reached the ultimate peak in their high school careers, for nothing surpasses a senior. The year was a year to top all. The seniors played a major part in Tempe High's winning teams, active clubs and rowdy crowds. They set an example for future classes that will be passed down for many years to come. It took four long, hard years to reach this point but most all of them succeeded. The year went fast and before anyone had realized it, graduation, one of the most awaited events in high school, was upon us. Now, all the activities the seniors had contributed to, Homecoming, Senior Walk, Baccalureate, and all the homework, are nothing but memories. But the memories will always live on because, the class of '84 will never die.

A relatively stable, highly professional faculty worked hard during the year to insure that students met the goals established by the Governing Board and the District for graduates and undergraduates alike. They faced the problems of major curriculum changes in several departments and sailed through a North Central Evaluation in the spring with high marks. In general, the 14 new teachers were additions to the faculty rather than replacements. They were to be found in the English, Science, Math, Business, Home Ec and P.E. departments.

Retiring Faculty

Three teachers and two custodians retired from Tempe High at the end of the Fall semester. Coaches Bud Younger and John Zucco retired after 31 years and Counselor Mrs. Zelda Cummins finished 28 years. Custodian Antonio Molino had been at THS for 11 years and Custodian Manuel Escalante had been cleaning classrooms for more than 31 years. During the farewell party, all received a plaque thanking them for their efforts and hard work over the years. All also received humorous gifts from their peers.

Coach Bud Younger tells how he enjoyed his 31 years at THS.

Student Council President Marie Mayor hands each retiring teacher a plaque thanking them for their efforts at Tempe High.

Mrs. Zelda Cummins thanks the students and her fellow teachers for the plaque.

Coach John Zucco stops to remember all the graduating classes he has seen at THS.

Custodians Manuel Escalante and Antonio Molino accept their gifts denoting a job "well done" at Tempe High.

JAN.

THIS YEAR HAS BEEN THE BEST OF MY LIFE, AND I HOPE YOURS TO. YOU'VE BEEN SO FUN TO BE AROUND, SO FRIENDLY, WARM & LOVING .

I WISH I COULD HAVE BEEN WITH YOU AT SCHOOL
ALL YEAR, SO WE COULD GO TO LUNCH TOGETHER, AND HAVE CLASSES TOGETHER. BUT NOW YOU'RE OUT & I'VE GOT YOU
ALL TO MYSELF.

I KNOW YOU'RE THE ONE FOR ME. (RIGHT NOW YOU'RE NEXT TO ME LOOKING FOR A RAR RING) BUT ANYWAY I HOPE THAT WE'LL BE TOGETHER FOREVER. THE LIGHTS ARE DIMINING & I WANT TO DANCE WITH YOU FOREVER.

FOREVER YOURS

Mark.

Jim,

Even though I made fun of you a lot this year, I never really ment it. You ~~are~~ ^{are} a very tolerant persons and you have helped me out when I've been depressed.
Have a great summer, and don't worry. There is life after high school.
